Additional “St. Mary’s 2050” Community Visioning Sessions Announced

LEONARDTOWN, MD – St. Mary’s County Government’s Department of Land Use & Growth Management (LUGM) is seeking input from the community on the vision, key planning themes, and goals to be considered as the county’s Comprehensive Plan is updated. The “St. Mary’s 2050” plan will establish a cohesive, countywide vision for land use, economic development, and other quality-of-life goals, and will outline an actionable strategy to achieve this vision.

Two additional Community Visioning Sessions have been scheduled to the previously announced sessions. The format for these sessions will be identical; attendees are asked to attend only one 90-minute session:

- Wednesday, January 22, 2025, at 6 p.m. at the Charlotte Hall Library located at 37600 New Market Road in Charlotte Hall.
- New! Sunday, January 26, 2025, at 2 p.m. at the Ridge Volunteer Fire Department, located at 13820 Point Lookout Road in Ridge, Maryland
- New! Monday, February 3, 2025, at 5 p.m. at St. Mary’s College of Maryland, Campus Center, located at 47600 Mill Field Drive in St. Mary’s City.
- Sesión en español! Thursday, January 30, 2025, at 1:30 p.m. in Meeting Room A of the Lexington Park Library located at 21677 FDR Blvd. in Lexington Park. This session, along with all exhibits and activities will be conducted entirely in Spanish [Esta sesión, junto con todas las exhibiciones y actividades, se llevará a cabo completamente en español].

LUGM is working with local partner organizations to schedule additional sessions, to be announced as they are confirmed. For questions or additional information, please contact LUGM via email to: stmarys2050@stmaryscountymd.gov.
